Help your child with ADHD reach his or her full academic and social potential — with ADDERALL XR®.

ADDERALL XR was generally well tolerated in clinical studies. The most common side effects are decreased appetite, stomachache, difficulty falling asleep, and emotional lability.

Talk to your doctor if your child has a history of high blood pressure or any heart conditions, glaucoma, thyroid problems, emotional instability, mental illness, or a known allergy to this type of medication. ADDERALL XR may not be right for your child. If he or she is currently or has recently taken a type of antidepressant called a MAO inhibitor, your child should not take ADDERALL XR. There is a potential for worsening of motion or verbal tics and Tourette's syndrome. Abuse of amphetamines may lead to dependence. Report any new psychological symptoms to your physician.

Please see brief summary of prescribing information on adjacent page. For more information, consult your physician.

minutes to spare

With seven minutes to spare, there's still time to get dressed and grab a cup of coffee before heading out—if you've been smart about your wardrobe preparations. Your mother was right; it's best to press and lay out what you're wearing the night before (don't forget matching accessories). Even better, organize the closet by silhouette (dresses together, blouses together, etc.) and you'll be able to put together outfits in no time.

Last-minute checklist: Spritz on some fragrance, set your watch, check your rear view, grab your purse . . . have a good day!
